The members of the Natural Resource Inventory Steering Committee liberally adopted language from the public sources below whose authors have far greater expertise than we do. We ask their forgiveness, as well as that of our high school English teachers, for not properly citing each instance where this occurred.

Auger, Phil and McIntyre, Jeannie; Natural Resource Inventories: A Guide for New Hampshire Communities and Conservation Groups; as revised by Amanda J. Lindley Stone in 2001; University of New Hampshire Cooperative Extension.

In addition, our map data comes primarily from the New Hampshire Geographically Referenced Analysis and Information Transfer System (NH GRANIT), a cooperative project to create, maintain, and make available a statewide geographic data base serving the information needs of state, regional, and local decision-makers.
