Small Business Proposal

When booking overnight stays in the past, guests have often inquired about holding events such as family reunions, women's retreats, and small weddings on the property.

In keeping with the intent and spirit of the 'rural residential' zoning assigned to 393 Bean Road, the plan for a small event venue will be compatible with the proposed character of the zone. It will encourage and maintain the low density, rural character of the property, maintain the integrity of rural-oriented activities, and will encourage the maintenance of the property's rural characteristics such as its forests, fields and scenic beauty.

- A small event venue fits nicely into the category of a 'Cottage Business', as this will be a small scale, home-operated business, with (far) less than 7 employees, located on the business owner's property, which contains the business owner's residence. On a personal note, as this my home, and my children's home, my commitment is to care for the property, first and foremost.
- In further keeping with the intent of 'rural residential' zoning – under the guidelines of Commercial Outdoor Recreation, the recreational activities being proposed will not require the modification of the existing setting.
- There is no plan for additional development; the property will be utilized 'as is'.
- More than adequate off-street parking is available in two separate parking areas, with room for up to 50 vehicles, and are currently in existence on the property and are not visible to neighboring properties.

- The proposed plan is to install one parking sign at the entrance of each of the two parking areas.
- There will be minimum interference with traffic on abutting streets.
- There may be one to four events (or less) per month, occurring mostly between the months of May through October.
- Guests will total up to 100 people.
- Music, if any, will be allowed inside the barn, and will not impact neighbors, due to the secluded location and distance from neighboring properties.
- Any additional outdoor lighting will be small scale, battery operated and solar lights, and will be used to light pathways leading to parking areas.
- Only licensed and insured vendors with proper permitting will be allowed to bring rented items onto the property, such as porta-potties. Porta-potties will be placed on a level, graveled area, currently in place adjacent to the barn.
- The property will remain my private, full-time residence, and will only be opened to guests for a scheduled gathering. A gathering that requires a schedule of events, such as a wedding, will take place at a previously agreed-upon appointed time, with guests arriving no earlier than one hour prior to late-morning or early afternoon nuptials, and the reception end-time will be no later than 10 PM.
- The business will support local caterers, bakers, florists, photographers, musicians, artists, and housekeepers, etc.

Signed,

Dated: _____

Subject: draft application

I reviewed your draft this AM, it's a good solid start.

Here is what you need to get a hearing posted for July 13th. FYI you will need to be in attendance or a representative with a letter from you that says they have full authority to speak for you.

I would reference in the letter the Fire Protection Engineer and that a report for code compliance issues will be forthcoming.

I would add photos of the property and the barn, let the board see what it looks like.

We likely will visit the site the night of the hearing say at 6:30pm. You or your rep will have to give a tour of the venue for the weddings, not your home.

I would add a blow up of the parking lot(2) that shows you could get something like 35-45 cars (10x20 each space plus alley). I am using one car for three guests, plus 10 vehicles for staff, vendors? Show dimensions on the plan.

If you can get me this information for Monday, I can notice the hearing for 7/13. The ZBA may want more, but with what you have submitted, plus this new information it will be sufficient to get you started.

In the letter you may need to add a time that all music would stop. It's a wedding night, receptions are over by 11pm something like that.

- There may be zero to four events per month occurring mostly between the months of June through October.
- More than adequate off-street parking is available in 5 separate existing parking areas, with one primary parking area with existing landing well off of Bean Road and from site of anyone. That itself could hold approximately 50 cars. This lot has a beautiful existing 30' foot wide path to the lower field behind the barn which is impossible to see from Bean Road which will allow for zero-foot traffic on Bean Road along with no driving traffic other than entering and departing. Additional parking will be behind the guest house, down to the tea house holding approximately for 30 vehicles.
- The proposed plan is to install one parking sign at the entrance of each of the parking areas.
- There will be minimum interference with traffic on abutting streets.
- Guests will total up to 100 people
- Music, if any, will be allowed inside the barn, and will not impact neighbors, due to the secluded location and distance from neighboring properties.
- Outside catering and or a food truck will be permitted to set up and work in the area adjacent to the barn. This area may be tented if the guests use a licensed and insured company for setup and breakdown.
- The Venue will not provide alcohol.
- Only licensed and insured vendors with proper permitting will be allowed to bring rented items onto the property, such porta-potties.
- Port-potties will be placed on a level, graveled area, currently in place adjacent to the barn.

- Any additional outdoor lighting will be small scale, battery operated and solar lights, and will be used to light pathways leading to parking areas.
